

VOTES OR BOLT, SUFFRAGE DEF

Suffragists Will Insurge Unless Enfranchised, Says Miss Paul.

DISGUSTED AT DELAY

Big Delegation to Call on Harding Tomorrow to Ask His Stand.

The bulk of the 17,000,000 women voters of the United States will support a third party ticket if one of the two old political parties does not succeed in bringing about prompt ratification of the woman suffrage amendment.

This ultimatum was issued to Republican and Democratic leaders yesterday by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party. The only condition the women will demand of the third party, Miss Paul said, will be a pledge to prompt enfranchisement of women.

In the event the amendment is not ratified by the close of the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, Miss Paul announced, the women of the country will be called at once into convention at Chicago or San Francisco to declare their adherence to an independent political party.

Will Mean Party Domination.

"By its enfranchisement of the negroes of the South," said the woman's party leader, "the Republican party maintained a voting ascendancy for fifty years. The party which enfranchises a sex which includes half the population of the country will dominate more than half a century."

"If neither of the old parties acts promptly, a third party will arise, supported by the full strength of the enfranchised womanhood of the country. This party will represent the progressive and forward-looking forces of both sexes, and all classes in the country—the laboring men, the independent, and the great number of men and women who are tired of the program of talk without action adopted by the old parties."

The Democrats in Tennessee and North Carolina have a wonderful opportunity to secure this woman vote. But will they act? The politicians seem not to realize how embittered women are at having their vote withheld when it is almost within their grasp.

Claim Key Positions.

"The woman vote will be independent, and it will be concentrated to the aid of its friends and against its enemies. In this election women hold key positions in every doubtful States, such as New York, Rhode Island and Western States, where a few thousand votes can easily turn the tide."

"It is the most futile thing in the world for politicians of the old school to attempt to put the brand of one party or the other on the woman vote. Women will have no party affiliations until they are all accorded the vote, and they will vote for the worthy candidate and worthwhile platform, regardless of party."

A delegation of twenty-five woman suffrage leaders will call on Senator Harding, the Republican nominee for President, tomorrow, and demand that he state his position on the question of ratification of the amendment, said Miss Paul.

"We know that Senator Harding can secure the ratification of this amendment," she continued. "We will demand that he state his position without equivocation. In the committee will be several women who have contributed heavily to the Harding campaign fund, but who, after the meaningless shuffle of the Republican platform builders, helped to picket the Republican convention. A similar committee will call on Gov. Coolidge, the Republican nominee for Vice President, within a few days."

Among those who will be in the delegation that will present the suffragists' ultimatum to the Republican candidate will be:

Mrs. Genevieve Allen of San Francisco, Cal., State chairman of the National Woman's party; Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, New Castle, Del., chairman; Miss Shellen Jackson, District of Columbia chairman; Mrs. Donald R. Hooker of Baltimore, Md., chairman; Mrs. John Gordon Batelle of Columbus, Ohio, member of the Ohio advisory council, who contributed $50,000 to the Harding campaign fund; Miss Emma Wold, of Portland, Ore.; Miss Mary Ingham, of Philadelphia, Pa., chairman; Mrs. Michael Van Beuren, of Middletown, Rhode Island chairman; Miss Sue White, Tennessee chairman; Mrs. Albion Lang, of Windsor, Vt.; Mrs. Sophie G. Meredith, Virginia chairman; Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, of Philadelphia, national treasurer; Mrs. Gibson Gardner, of the District of Columbia, and Miss Paul.

Little known but a few months ago, Sir Philip Sassoon, M. P., chief private secretary to Lloyd George of Great Britain, is today one of the most prominent officials of the coalition government.

CLARK IS SEEN AS DARK HORSE

Former Speaker's Name Sure to Be Placed Before Convention, Claim.

Definite announcement that Champ Clark will be placed in nomination at the Democratic National convention will make him a formidable candidate for the party standard-bearer, his friends here declared yesterday.

Clark is in a more favorable position as a rallying point for the delegates in the event of a deadlock than even Vice President Marshall. It is felt here. The Missourian has antagonized nobody, while the Vice President has alienated the Irish vote, it is declared by politicians in the Capital, by his declaration that the Irish problem is "none of our business."

The "wet" element in the convention also is expected to oppose Marshall because of his declaration that he will oppose any effort to inject the liquor question into the platform deliberations.

Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, was especially enthusiastic over Clark's chances. He said: "Missouri is regarded as a doubtful as well as a pivotal State, and Mr. Clark as the best means to wrest it decisively from Republican control, and place it in the Democratic column."

SIMPLE RITES FOR FINANCIER

Funeral of George W. Perkins Without Sermon Or Eulogy.

New York, June 20.—Marked by simplicity, the funeral services for George W. Perkins, philanthropist and financier, were held in the little Riverside Presbyterian Church this afternoon.

There was no sermon and no eulogy, the service consisting solely of the reading of the funeral service by the Rev. Robert MacKenzie, pastor of the church. It was attended only by relatives and close personal friends, because of the small seating capacity of the church.

The interior of the church was decorated with ferns and flowers of subdued colors. The only flowers in the Perkins pew were a few sprays of lilac.

Late before the hour set for the services scores of those who had known Mr. Perkins gathered in Riverside, anxious to pay their final tribute to his memory. The honorary pallbearers were Cleveland H. Dodge, Frank A. Munsey, Judge Elbert H. Gary, J. Pierpont Morgan, George F. Baker, Sr., Robert W. Lindbergh, Lewis L. Delafontaine and Thomas A. Buckner.

SCORE PALMER LABOR RECORD

Unions Back Cox in Effort To Stop Palmer's Chance For Nomination.

(Public Ledger Service.)

San Francisco, June 20.—Labor yesterday opened its fight against Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. Supporters of Gov. James M. Cox, of Ohio, also a candidate, joined in the anti-Palmer movement. Both elements using the same weapons denounced in public statements Mr. Palmer's "high handed administration of his office" and in general his labor record since he has been a member of the Wilson cabinet.

The labor men particularly stressed Mr. Palmer's use of the injunction during the recent coal strike. This is something for which Mr. Palmer will not apologize. His managers here in a statement issued tonight in reply to the attacks made upon him said Mr. Palmer would accept all criticism leveled at his use of the injunction. He takes the position, they said, that he employed the legal instrument, not for the protection of any class or interest, but for the protection of all the people of the United States.

Supporters of Gov. Cox said the Ohio executive always had been opposed to Mr. Palmer's methods of administering his office and that the Cox forces would stand by the labor men in opposition to the attorney general's nomination. Gov. Cox's labor record, they said, always had been marked by broad-minded tolerance. E. H. Moore, national committeeman and campaign manager for Gov. Cox said today Mr. Palmer's labor record since he has been attorney general unquestionably has been about his defeat. The Palmer forces, quoting from Mr. Palmer's Congressional record, were quick with their reply to that attack upon the attorney general.

HARDING BUSY UPON SPEECH

G. O. P. Nominee and Adversers to Pick Campaigners at Confab Today.

The exact date of the formal notification of the Republican nominee also is to be determined today. It will take place in Marion, Ohio, Senator Harding's home, about the middle of July, and will be immediately followed by the nominee's speech of acceptance, in which the Republican policies will be formally announced to the voters.

Drafting Speech Begins. Senator Harding already has started the rough draft of his speech. He has been guided in its preparation, it was stated, "by all shades of opinion in the party." His conference with a delegation of agriculturists Saturday, it is evident, was to obtain the farmers' views. Other viewpoints will be solicited, the Harding managers state, in order that the speech may, as nearly as possible, incorporate constructive ideas from business men, bankers, railroad men and many other branches of industry.

Front Porch Campaign.

Senator Harding will follow the idea originated by President McKinley and will conduct a staid "front porch" campaign, with the possibility of a few excursions to large cities for important speeches when the occasion seems to demand. This plan of campaign was definitely announced yesterday by the Harding managers.

The nominee spent a quiet Sunday at home with his house guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crager, of Texas, and Mr. F. E. Seobey, all of whom are old personal friends of Senator Harding. A few excursions to the customary Sunday church-going and spent a day of complete rest. He saw no visitors, either political or otherwise.

It was announced last night that Harding's meeting with former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, will take place on Tuesday and with Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., either on the same day or on Wednesday.

TRAINS MOVING DESPITE STRIKE

Freight Unhindered Here By Renewal of "Outlaw" Walkout.

With more than 700 Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio yardmen out at Baltimore, railroad officials denied last night that movements of trains into Washington had been hampered but admitted that freight for this city from northern points may be tied up within twenty-four hours should the walkout become more extensive.

Up to a late hour last night there were no indications that employees of the Washington Terminal of any of the freight yards might join the strike. A majority of the yard crews working last night should be relieved by fresh ones between 6 and 8 o'clock this morning. While it is not known whether they will report for work, yardmasters expressed belief that the men here will not go out.

An embargo may be placed today on freight shipments to northern points as a result of the renewal of the "outlaw" strike, it was said. Fast passenger train service between Washington, Philadelphia, New York and other northern cities has not yet been affected, but trains are not handled by yard crews but are sent through on "clear" tracks.

STAGE ALL SET FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION, WITH SEVEN CANDIDATES LISTED FOR THE FRAY

Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Democratic National Committee headquarters, and Chairman Homer S. Cummings (left), Bruce Kremer, vice-chairman (right top), and Postmaster Fay, chairman of the local committee.

San Francisco, June 20.—With the Democratic national convention a week off this city is buzzing with unusual activity. The National Committee headquarters are at the Palace Hotel, where the political wire-pulling already is under way, and this hostelry is a beehive of interest. Chairman Cummings and his little army have dug in and are hard at work. They have announced eight official candidates and their sponsors, including McAdoo, who requested that he not be considered. The other seven follow: A. Mitchell Palmer, by John H. Bigelow, of Pennsylvania; Gov. James Cox, by Supreme Justice James C. Johnson, of Columbus, Ohio; Edward L. Edwards, by Charles F. Z. O'Brien, of Jersey City; Senator Robert L. Owen, by D. Hayden Lindebaugh, of Muskegon, Okla.; James W. Gerard, by U. S. G. Cherry, of Sioux City Falls, S. D.; Senator Gilbert Hitchcock, by

A. C. Shallenberger, of Alma, Neb.; E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, by Claude Porter, of Iowa. It looks like Carter Glass, of Virginia; Ambassador John W. Davis and Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, will also be in the running. It is thought that Glass will be President-elect Wilson's representative on the convention floor. So far only one State contest looms. Georgia presents a contest between the Palmer adherents and the Hoke Smith-Watson delegation.

Washington yesterday enjoyed the temperature of Atlantic City. While thermometers all over the country registered one of the coolest June 20ths for several years, the mercury in those on the famous boardwalk at the seashore resort and on Pennsylvania avenue rose and fell together. The lowest mark at both places was 60 degrees, and the highest about 65.

Mercury Here Behaves Same As At Seashore

Swung by Old Guard in Defiance of People, Says Anti-Wet Head.

(By Universal Service.)

New York, June 20.—Launching an attack on the Republican party and its candidates for public office, William H. Anderson, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said in an address tonight: "The same old-guard gang which swung New York to Harding in defiance of the fact that the sentiment was behind Gen. Wood and the Republicans in New York. State wanted Gen. Wood, and which is trying to cram the wet United States Senator Wadsworth down the throats of the moral element again, has decided upon Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia, as the candidate for governor to be designated at the unofficial Republican convention in July."

Cabinet Goes To Convention --All but Four

This was what Glass, as chairman of the resolutions committee of the convention, has been charged with the battle for a platform embodying President Wilson's principles. Glass is the author of the treaty plank which has been declared by President Wilson a model for the treaty plank of the Democratic national platform. Glass's treaty plank includes the League of Nations covenant, without damaging reservations.

Clark in Forefront.

Former Speaker Champ Clark, who received a majority in the 1912 convention, but failed to get the necessary two-thirds vote for nomination, leaped to the forefront in the pre-convention gossip here yesterday. The definite announcement of yesterday that he will be placed in nomination at San Francisco caused his friends and supporters to get busy.

With every indication of a prolonged deadlock at the convention, unless the expected Wilson coup should succeed, it is thought Clark will be the logical candidate to draw the "break." His friends say he could unite all factions of the party and could carry Missouri and Kentucky, two important pivotal States.

Palmer, Cox and Glass, according to the advance forecasts coming out of San Francisco, where the party chiefs are gathering, will take the lead in the avowed candidates now in the field.

Vice-President Marshall's boom has been considerably weakened by his stand against an Irish independence plank in the platform or any declaration on the "wet" and "dry" issue.

N. Y. REPUBLICANS TO BOOM HOWARD FOR GOVERNORSHIP

(By Universal Service.)

New York, June 20.—When the Republican State committee meets here next Wednesday to select a date for the unofficial convention, an energetic boom will be inaugurated for Judge Wesley O. Howard, of Troy, for the nomination for Governor.

Judge Howard has opposed the Wilson league of nations and has written much against it. As a result of his stand in favor of Italy in the Plume controversy many Italian organizations adopted resolutions endorsing him for any office he might run for.

Judge Howard's stand for woman suffrage is also being advanced as an argument as to why he should be selected. It is predicted by his Troy boosters that with Judge Howard at the head of the ticket the Republicans can elect their county tickets in this city.

HURRY UP NOTE BUSINESS SONG

Return to Normal Craved by Wise Thinkers, Writer Says.

By C. B. EVANS.

Chicago, June 20.—The feeling grows that it is time to pick up the pieces and try to put them together. This idea has been pushed forward strongly by the advent of the national convention period, and among the best thinkers there is much less regard to the question which party shall win in the Presidential election as to the constructive abilities of the men placed in office. Credit is given for what has already been done, but it is felt that both political and commercially some of the greatest tasks are ahead. The thoroughly unsatisfactory position of certain of the most momentous questions is in the conversation of everybody. The things have been left on the ground with nobody to pick them up.

In Old World's Affairs.

Then we Americans must engage to some extent in the affairs of the Old World. It is time to stop the truck from dropping things out of the sky on the heads of the British troops and to head off the Bolsheviki. The league of nations music has had little effect thus far and it will be a long time before anything is achieved, but the better class of business men have a "hurry up" feeling, for this matter must be gotten out of the way.

It is the more exasperating because there are enough people to do all the work in spite of the great destruction in the best of human life during the war. It is a matter of proper leadership and inspiration and infusion into the minds of the workers that it is their business to work.

American Example Potent.

It is hoped a good example will soon be set by the American example management. American example is even though our democracy is an imperfect one. The opportunity is a great one for the next administration and Congress. What greater thing than to create a rockribbed world out of an infinity of nebulae?

These things are in the minds of business men, for to them pure business men they are as important as to the world politically and socially. The thing that business craves is a return to conditions in which only the normal risks exist. True, many have made fortunes through the events of the past six years, but to the normal man the fever of gambling is less agreeable than the ordinary processes of production, distribution, and profit-making.

LA FOLLETTE INDORSED BY THIRD PARTY

Mitchell, S. D., June 20.—Senator Robert La Follette, of Wisconsin, was endorsed for the Presidential nomination of a third party to be launched at a convention in Chicago, July 10, in resolutions adopted by the State convention of the committee of forty-eight.

The convention urged progressives of all parties to unite in the formation of the new party.

King's Airmen Fancy Dressers.

Newly-designed uniforms for his majesty's air forces would put a musical comedy chorusman to utter shame, says a London cable. The uniform is of blue-gray and plentifully studded with golden acorns and leaves and silver wings. Even the trousers have a touch of gilt, and white gloves and a sword with a gold hilt and a golden tassel will be worn.

FRISCO IS HOT; ALSO CHEAP

Heat Irks But Low Prices Delight Vanguard of Delegations.

San Francisco, June 21.—Two things are surprising early arrivals for the Democratic convention. One is the weather. The other is the prices.

Their ears filled with warnings about the cold climate here in summertime, some of the early birds climbed into red flannels and shook the moth balls out of winter overcoats as they neared the Golden Gate. But they encountered a temperature which hovered around the 70's.

"It's the first time in history," said the natives.

The weather man backs up this statement. Overcoats come in useful at night, and the red flannels will be popular as soon as the climate gets back to normal, an event looked for momentarily and fervently prayed for by the few officials and delegates who are here.

As to prices, Easterners are thrilled by them. A satisfying lunch for 80 cents. A breakfast, which takes "n" everything, 50 cents. Dinner perhaps $1.25. So far there has been no indication of any convention skyrocketing.

The convention situation has the general aspect of a bare stage before the scenery has been set up. There are only a few officials and delegates on the ground, and they are entirely surrounded by newspaper men. Candidates Row is yet to come into being.

The audience where the Democratic candidates will be named looks like a carpenter's shop. Quarters are being prepared for delegations, but so far there has not been from a trombone note to herald coming events.

And there are no campaign buttons!

SOLONS TOUR PARKS IN WEST

Congress Party Starts on Long Trip in Special Car.

Members of the Appropriations Committee of the House left Chicago last night in a special car, headed for a tour of the national park and reclamation projects of the entire West. The trip was authorized in the sundry civil appropriation bill, and will continue until August 1.

Those in the party include Representative J. M. C. Wood, of Iowa; Joseph G. Cannon, Illinois; William R. Wood, Indiana; Louis C. Cranton, Michigan; Burton L. French, Idaho; Milton W. Shreve, Pennsylvania; Charles F. Ogden, Kentucky; Joseph W. Byrnes, Tennessee; John J. Eagan, New Jersey; and James McAndrews, Illinois.

Members of the executive department of the government were also in the party. They were taken from the reclamation service in order to point out to the Congressmen what the reclamation service has most to aid in the development of the ungrazed lands of the West.

The party will arrive in San Francisco on June 27, in time for the Democratic national convention, and is expected to spend several days in that city.

The route laid out for the trip includes all of the national parks west of the Mississippi, besides many points where reclamation work is being carried on or might be carried on with the aid of Federal appropriations. It includes the Yellowstone National Park, the Yosemite National Park, Mount Shasta, Mount Shasta, Devil's Lake, and other points in the West of Congressional interest.

Dennis McQueary Expecting Letter from Dormer Wife's Parents.

Though Dennis E. McQueary is confident his three children—Catherine, Smith, and James—who disappeared from their home, 1015 K Street northwest, Tuesday, are with their mother, Mrs. Maude S. Kelley, he was still within the word last night as to their whereabouts.

He is expecting information from relatives in Somerset, Ky., the home of his former wife's parents, today, which will definitely clear away the mystery surrounding the children's disappearance.

He had received no confirmation of the report that Mrs. Kelley and the children had been located in Cincinnati Saturday.

MARION, OHIO, MAKES CELEBRATION PLANS

Marion, Ohio, June 20.—This place is surely going to be on the map of America. In only when Senator Warren G. Harding will be officially notified of his nomination for the Presidency. Members of the Men's Harding for President Club and of the Women's Harding for President Club are already actively engaged in making preparations for a huge ratification meeting to be held coincident with the notification meeting.

Thousands of visitors are expected to be on hand for the celebration and special trains will be run on the four railroads passing through Marion. Every State in the Union will be represented at the great gathering, according to indications.

LOWER WHEAT VANISHED HOPE

Federal Experts Find Producers Can't Sell Under $2.60.

Predictions of some agriculturalists that wheat would soon return to something like the prewar-price levels, with a consequent reduction in the price of flour and bread, were shattered yesterday when the Department of Agriculture announced that investigations just made show that the American farmer, under present conditions cannot produce wheat profitably to sell for less than $2.60. At this figure the Department says 20 per cent of the growers would not break even on their year's crop. Wheat is now selling at a figure above $3.

An investigation conducted by the department in both the winter and spring wheat districts showed that the cost of production ranged all the way from $1 a bushel to $5.

Average Cost $2.15.

"The cost of producing wheat of the 1919 crop was as low as $1 a bushel on just two farms out of the 481 included in a cost-of-production study just completed," says the department. "On twenty farms it was $5 or over. The bulk of the farms produced wheat at a cost somewhat less than midway between these two extremes. The average cost per bushel for all farms was $2.15. At such a price half the farmers in question would have lost money."

The surveys were made in the nine winter wheat areas of Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri, and five spring wheat areas of Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

"In the winter wheat areas," the department's report continues, "costs ranged from $1 a bushel for two farms to $3.20 on one farm. The average cost was $1.87. If the price received had been $1.87 more, one-half of these winter wheat growers would have produced wheat at a loss."

Spring Wheat Higher.

"In the spring wheat areas the average cost was much higher, $2.65—the range running from $1.10 for one farm to $5 or over for seventeen farms. If the price received was equal to the average cost, between $2.60 and $5, one-half of these spring wheat growers would have failed to break even."

"Department specialists, in cost of production studies, point out in this report that the farmers are concerned in this investigation the necessary price, that is the price necessary to give certainty of a fair profit could be found at a level considerably above that of the average cost of production. For example, to allow a profit on 80 per cent of the wheat produced on the farms covered by the study, the cost would have to be about $2.60, as compared with an average cost of $2.15. At a price covering the average cost plus 10 per cent, 75 per cent of the crop would be covered, and 40 per cent of the growers would still fail to break even."
